

If you love to read, write (or both!)
and are moved by the beauties and powers of the written and spoken words, then sign up for Creative Writing!

This writing-based classroom fosters a nurturing atmosphere with ample opportunities to compose and workshop with fellow writers. Through the study of various examples of prose and poetry and three published works on the art and process of creative writing, we will also discuss writing, the writer and life! If you have any questions, please contact Ms. McGarrity at cmcgarrity@lrhsd.org
