Santa Claus
North Pole

Dear Santa,

How are you and Mrs. Claus? I hope this letter finds you both well. As I am sure you know, I have been extra good this year. Not only have I kept my bedroom clean, folded and put away my own laundry, but I have even been doing my own dishes. I know you have been watching me, especially when I put down everything I was doing to go help my Grandma get some items from the store. Since I have been so good, I figure I'll be getting quite a hefty reward in the form of presents this year. To make your job easier, I have provided a table of the items I would love, their prices, and where you can pick them up (in case the elves are overwhelmed this year making toys).

Name	Description	Price	Store
Owlicorn Hatchimals Egg	There are a bunch of different 'eggs' you can buy that are all interactive, and then suddenly they hatch with a surprise animal inside.	$59	Toys R Us
Speak Out	Players simply put in a game mouthpiece, pick a card, and try to say the phrase on the card until someone guesses it.	$37	Amazon.com

Thank you for your time.

Best Wishes,

Mrs. Hahn

P.S. I baked you extra cookies this year to share with the elves.
